

DoD and Joint Knowledge Management Working Group

Combatant Commands KM Perspective

Welcome!

What is Knowledge Management?

RE: DRAFT - DOD INSTRUCTION 8220.AC KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT (KM) FOR THE DOD

Knowledge Management (KM)

A discipline focused on integrating people and processes enabled by tools throughout the information lifecycle in order to create shared understanding and increase organizational performance and decision-making.

Knowledge Management and Outcomes Background

- KM is a critical DOD enabling capability.
- DOD components employ KM to produce and foster rapid and meaningful innovation.
- Through KM, and other disciplines we enhance operational effectiveness/efficiency, reduce errors, improve shared understanding, and increase decision making confidence and consistency in direct support of the mission and warfighter.
- KM complements the Secretary of Defense's lines of effort. All DOD activities benefit from shared understanding, improved decision-making, enhanced mission/organizational performance, and adaptation that results from a learning organization.

This figure provides a high level operational concept of KM's mission relevance.
